Employee Development on a Shoestring: Developing Talent Outside the Classroom

In this interactive and engaging workshop, explore non-training ways to develop employees on a tight budget. Consider the pros and cons of various non-training development methods, consider the requirements and specifications of specific employee development ideas, and begin to develop a strategy for implementing new employee development methods for your organization.

Engaging Employees across the Generations by Using Social and Informal Learning

Businesses are abuzz about the multiple generations in the workplace. Leaders are struggling to bridge generational gaps and create more ways for different employees to share ideas and add value. In this interactive workshop, examine ways to capture and share tacit organizational knowledge while helping engage employees across the different generations and organizational silos using today's emerging social and informal learning methods.

Three Keys to Communication Success

Today's business environment offers endless communication challenges. Dealing with clients, team members, and vendors, among others, has become a bit like walking in a minefield. In this engaging and interactive workshop, consider three keys that can really make a difference in the quality of your interactions with others: listening to understand, connecting with others on a human level, and gaining commitment rather than enforcing compliance.

Strength to Strength: How Your Strengths Can Help You Lead a More Fulfilling Life

Everyone possesses strengths, defined as "Talent + Knowledge + Skills". When you use your strengths at work daily, you will be happier and fulfill your greatest potential. Plus, your employer will benefit from your increased productivity and engagement. It's a win-win proposition. In this interactive and engaging workshop, learn how to identify and cultivate your strengths and maximize them every day.

Words often spoken after time with Halelly...

"Engaging – Knowledgeable – Inspiring – Enthusiastic – Creative – Talented – Powerful"

Halelly Azulay has spoken to audiences large and small at industry conferences, corporate meetings and events, and association meetings. As a curious life-long learner, thought leader, and author, she is always on the cutting edge of industry research and publications and shares the latest findings with audiences of leaders, managers, and high-performers around the U.S. and internationally. Her unique ability to convey this information through concrete examples, engaging stories, interesting discussions and enlightening metaphors lets audiences learn easily and get motivated to take action toward their goals. They walk away with specific tools and techniques that they can implement right away, on the job, to increase their effectiveness and engagement. Halelly is a consultant, facilitator, speaker and author with over 20 years of professional experience in workplace learning and communication. She is the author of Employee Development on a Shoestring, a book which provides managers and supervisors hands-on tools and techniques for developing employees outside the classroom.

"Our sincerest THANKS for your training sessions yesterday. It's not an easy group especially given their varied backgrounds, and you were able to pull everything we were looking for together and nicely engage them – the whole day was just so terrific. I really think you managed to break through to many of our Sales Engineers. I know that everyone will take your advice and apply it in the work place... I will highly recommend you."
Kelly H., leading global communications
'Technology Fast500' company

"As the HR Magazine of Turkey, we hosted Halelly Azulay as a keynote speaker in our 17th Trainers Summit in Istanbul. She was very well prepared for the session. Her communication and people skills were excellent. She was responsible, creative and highly motivated. She had good dialogue with the participants. We would like to sincerely thank her for her contribution to our event."
Ülgen Özmen, Assistant General
Manager at HRdergi

"Halelly presented on concepts from her book, Employee Development on a Shoestring. She was attentive to our specific needs as a company and shaped her presentation to relate directly to our culture. She was flexible in her approach and looked for "value-adds" to ensure we would find practical benefit from her time with us."
